Buddhism and science: breaking new ground

Edited by B. Alan Wallace (2003)

This compilation was inspired by a suggestion made by His Holiness the Dalai Lama, after one of a series of cross-cultural scientific dialogues in Dharamsala, India, sponsored by the Mind and Life Institute. Distinguished philosophers, the Dalai Lama, Buddhist scholars, physicists and cognitive scientists examine the connections and contrasts between the Western science and Eastern spirituality. These essays address issues such as quantum theory's similarities with the Buddhist concept of emptiness, points of intersection between Buddhism and the modern physical sciences, and more.
